About Indego: Indego is an initiative of the City of Philadelphia and is sponsored by Independence Blue Cross. Heading into its 10th year, Indego has over 250 stations and 2,500+ bicycles across much of Philadelphia and has served over eight million rides since launch.

Job description: Indego Community Ambassadors will organize two bike-related activities, table at least one community event, share information on upcoming Indego rides, classes, and promotions, help the community learn more about Indego, and serve as the Indego voice for their community. Ambassadors will need to dedicate at least 6-10 hours per month from March to October and will receive a financial stipend of $3,000 with an opportunity to apply for up to $500.00 in additional grant support. Ambassadors also receive a free Indego pass for the duration of the season, and the opportunity to help grow and shape the Indego bike share program!
